"NUGGETS OF KNOWLEDGE

A SENIOR SONG

My diploma lies over the ocean,
My diploma lies over the sea,
But I think ''ll be old and gray
headed,
Before it's presented to me.

Last night as I lay on my pillow,
Last night as I lay on my bed,
I wondered if ever those lessons,
Could be pounded into my head.

Oye Winds that blow over the ocean,
Oye Winds that blow over the sea,
I wish you'd blow my diploma,
Right past examinations to me.

THE ORIGINAL TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Thou shalt put no other school before this one, because our superintendent is a jealous one and would be angry.
2. Thou shalt not loiter in the halls and talk.
3. Five days thou shalt labor and do all thy work and prepare for all thy tests; but the sixth and seventh days are dedicated to the teachers. In them thou shalt write all thy themes, translate all thy Spanish.
4. Thou shalt not flirt.
5. Thou shalt not whisper or write notes for the eyes of the faculty are always upon thee and seeth all that thou doest and the punishment is severe.
6. Thou shalt be in bed by ten o'clock so as to prevent the wrath of Mr. Stevens being turned upon thee.
7. Thou shalt not throw paper on the floor so as to provoke the faculty and worry the janitor.
8. Thou shalt chew no gum.
9. Thou shalt not go unprepared to music classes because the wrath of Mrs. Sockrider is great.
10. Thou shalt attend all football and basketball games.

COMFORTS FOR MONTGOMERY LOCAL

We, the Seniors of this great institution declare that the time we have spent in these inspiring classrooms have been far too strenuous for our delicate constitutions to stand. We therefore suggest the following additions for the oncoming classes. That they might labor in comfort: soda fountain in study hall, cushions on all senior desks, alarm clocks at each desk, private foot stools,elevators to carry pupils to and from classes, and speaking tubes from one desk to another.

THE THIRD DEGREE

ALGEBRA

1. If a banana is divided into three equal parts and the peeling of the third is dropped one-half block down the street and a man steps on it, how far will he roll? You figure it out!
2. If a flea travels over the entire surface of a dog in three hours, how large is the dog? Ask the dog, he knows better than I do.

HISTORY

1. Was George Washington the first president? What was his name? Why wasn't he inaugurated? Here's the history book, look it up yourself.
2. When and why did who discover what? Huh!
3. Was James first a man or a woman? Did he wear a moustache and why? Darned if I know.
4. How old was Napoleon in his twenty-fifth year? Did he die and what for? Well?

Silently, one by one, in the infinite notebooks of the teachers blossomed the neat little zeros, the forget-me-nots of the seniors.

* * * * * *

Live and love it, why not?

SENIOR PROPHECY

It was Summer Theater time again. I wanted to see what went on backstage, so I went around to the stage door.

"I was wondering----" I stopped for a familar face confronted me. "Blake Tyson! I do believe it's you."

I got in without any trouble.

"Lower the backdrop!" was the first thing I heard. To my surprise Marvin Saam was giving the order to David Beair and Paul Allen.

I noticed some doors and went to investigate. In the first room there were rows of dressing tables, and Joyce Rubel was hurrying around to see that all the make-up was put on properly.

In the next room, Irene Vosburg had pins and needles sticking out from her mouth and was trying to fit a dress on a squirming chorus girl.

In the next room, Pat Williamson was passing out outfits of all sorts.

On leaving the last room, I ran into Charles Morgart, the director of the play and stopped to chat a moment.

I decided to leave then and come back in the evening to see the show.

That evening familar fingers extended my ticket to me. That's right, none other than Jeanne Trudell. Grace Smith graciously took my ticket and flashed me a bright smile. An usher came toward me and to my surprise it was Bonnie Rentz, looking chic in her red uniform.

Just as I reached my seat, the orchestra leader picked up his baton and the orchestra began to play. I thought the leader was familar. On looking again, I recognized him as Tom Long. Looking over the orchestra, I saw several familar faces. Jane Graber was playing the piano; Bob Hartenfeld, Ray Reynolds, Kenny Tyson, and Lowell Buckingham were carrying through with their trumpets; and Jim Johnson was still playing his horn.

The orchestra stopped playing and the curtain rose. The setting was very beautiful. It was a night club arrangement and a girl and a boy were about to begin singing. On looking closer I was amazed, for the girl was Joyce Geren, who had never taken chorus in school, and the boy was Von Bloom, singing more wonderful than ever.

Next on the program Joyce Burton progressed onto the stage as a nurse and approched a bed containing Fred Ault. They sure made a wonderful comedy team. They acted out a hospital scene and were quite hilarious as you imagined.

The stage was dimmed and a dance team took over. They were the noted Irene Ault and Charles Tyson. As the dance progressed three boys and three girls joined them. I noticed a few of them as Janet Sawyer, Ruth Mahaffey, and Glenn White. They all did a wonderful job.

Then the stage was lit up and with Ann Whitman and Dick Noble accompanying on their accordian and guitar the Three Melodies took over. They were Don Ickes, Gineth Farabee, and Garland Smith. They sang "Come on 'a My House." A loud but well done number.

I knew when I left that my good friends were on their road to fame.

SENIOR WILL

We, the graduating class of 1953 A.D., being of sound mind and able body, do hereby publish and declare this to be our last will and testament subject to change only be due course of law.

First: I, Grace Smith, will my timid ways to Virgil Allen for his use only.

Second: I, Dick Noble, will my book knowledge to Don Baker if he'll take it.

Third: I, Ann Whitman, will my unused boyfriends to Claudette Baublitz.

Fourth: I, Jim Johnson, will my ambitious ways to Jim Brown. My future won't need them.

Fifth: I, Ruth Mahaffey, will my record "Slowpoke" to Lois Connell provided she doesn't keep Chase waiting.

Sixth: I, Irene Ault, will my unused secretary book to Phyllis Eckert for her records.

Seventh: I, Joyce Burton, will my silly ways to Janice Errett to teach to her children.

Eighth: I, Lowell Buckingham, will my ability to be heard everywhere to Imogene Evans.

Ninth: I, Von Bloom, will my serious moods to Ned Fairbanks, but I doubt if he'll use them.

Tenth: I, Tom Long, will my date book to Norma Foster.

Eleventh: I, Bonnie Rentz, will my flirtatious ways to Martha Fowler so she can catch a man.

Twelfth: I, Janet Sawyer, will my roller skates to Gail Garey so she can use them to the best of her ability.

Thirteenth: I, Jeanne Trudell, will my ability to stay thin to Eugene George, provided he doesn't go on a diet.

Fourteenth: I, Gineth Farabee, will my giggle to Jack Harrison.

Fifteenth: I, Jane Graber, will my ability to blush to John Tahy if he ever needs it.

Sixteenth: I, Joyce Geren, will all the boys I know in Fostoria and vicinity to Pat Hayman. Take your pick.

Seventeenth: I, Bob Hartenfeld, will my left end (position in football) to Joan Hiser.

Eighteenth: I, Pat Williamson, will my patience to Frank Long. Temper! Temper!

Nineteenth: I, Don Ickes, will my bashful ways to Don Loucks. He could use them.

Twenieth: I, Kenny Tyson, will my ability to flirt to Dorothy Sawyer and Walter Merritt. Good luck!

Twenty-First: I, Joyce Rubel, will my drum to Charles Nietz if the school will let him have it.

Twenty-Second: I, Fred Ault, will my quiet ways to Corinne O'Connell so we can be two of a kind.

Twenty-Third: I, Paul Allen,will my silly laugh to Glenn Ohler to cheer him up.

Twenty-Fourth: I, Irene Vosburg, will my soprano voice to Lester Pierce. Here, catch!

Twenty-Fifth: I, Garland Smith, will my ability to skip school to Paula Pollard and Nancy Rogers provided they don't get caught.

Twenty-Sixth: I, Glenn White, will my crooked smile to Carolyn Weller and Doris Stahl if they can imitate me.

Twenty-Seventh: I, Ray Reynolds, will my motor scooter to Ray Riffe to take his girl a ride.

Twenty-Eighth: I, Charles Morgart, will my steady going ways to Lena St. Clair and Bob Saam.

Twenty-Ninth: I, Blake Tyson, will my rosy cheeks and curly hair to Ronnie Tyson. What a change!

Thirtieth: I, David Beair, will my ability to play the pinball machines to Barbara Tyson. Don't win all the time.

Thirty-First: I, Charles Tyson, will my extra energy to Gregory Bender to use on his car.

Thirty-Second: I, Marvin Saam, will my rattletrap to Keith Swartz and Pete Sworden to fix up if they can.

Thirty-Third: Mr. Hosafros wills all the senior joke books and ornery ways to any class that wants them.

Thirty-Fourth: Mr. Stevens wills all unpaid debts of the Senior Class to the Junior Class.

SENIOR HISTORY

In the year 1951, A. D., the Wayne and Bradner schools were consolidated, bringing together more students.

We were juniors then with 23 students from Wayne and 11 students from Bradner. We then had a total of 34 juniors in the Montgomery Local School. The students in the junior class were as follows: Wayne--Fred Ault, Bob Harcenfeld, Joyce Burton, Lowell Buckingham, Von Bloom, Janet Sawyer, Joyce Geren, Jeanne Trudell, Gineth Farabee, Jane Graber, Jim Johnson, Tom Long, Blake Tyson, Irene Vosburg, Ann Whitman, Charles Morgart, Dick Noble, Ray Reynolds, Patty Williamson, Ruth Mahaffey, Kenny Tyson, Charles Tyson, and Mamie Gibson, Bradner--Paul Allen, David Beair, Letitia Dean, Don Ickes, Bonnie Rentz, Joyce Rubel, Marvin Saam, Garland Smith, Grace Smith, Betty Swin, and Glenn White.

The class officers for the junior class were--president, Bob Hartenfeld; vice-president, Tom Long; secretary, Jeanne Trudell; treasurer, Ruth Mahaffey; and reporter, Joyce Rubel.

Our wonderful sponsor was Mr. Wayne O. Hosafros, the head basketball coach and assistant football coach. We always thought a lot of our sponsor and coach because he was always willing to help us in any of our problems.

Our first attempt at making money in our junior year was made by selling stationary and napkins, and sell we did!

Our next and big moment was our junior play. The name of the play was "Lights Out." It was presented at the Wayne Auditorium on Thursday, November 15 and at the Bradner Auditorium on Tuesday, November 20. It was not a financial success, but it was exciting and thrilling. Out directors were Mr. Lauck and Mr. Lutz.

Now was the time to order our class rings and were we excited. But, oh my, what a time! We finally did decide and we received our rings on February 18, a date we thought would never come. Our rings were all gold with MLS, the year 1953 on the side, and white gold initials. We surely were proud of our rings. We purchased the rings from Bill Wonders, a representative from Herff-Jones.

On February 1, 1952, we had a bake sale at both Bradner and Wayne. Another big project during February was a fish fry held on the 19.

During April, we had a pancake supper on the first. "Pancakes and sausage, all you can eat!" Yes, sir, that's what we said.

Now we were getting ready for the big moment in our life; the Junior-Senior Banquet. We had quite a time getting ready. The theme of the banquet was the "Stork Club." We had small individual tables with our doorman, hat-check girl, and every highlight of a night club. The banquet was held on May 16 at 6:30.

Near the end of May, the students elected an annual staff so they could start planning the annual. The staff was as follows; Editor, Janet Sawyer; Co-Editors, Jim Johnson and Jeanne Trudell; Business Manager, Charles Morgart; Sports, Kenny Tyson; Photography, Lowell Buckingham, and Music, Bob Hartenfeld.

Also in May we served at the Alumni Banquet. The seniors did not get home in time from their trip to come to the banquet.

In June we convened at the Wayne Building and counted sales tax stamps. We received $51.13 from the stamps.

During the month of July we held two ice cream socials. One was held at Wayne and the other at the Brander carnival. We served home-made ice cream. It was hard work but still fun.

Then on July 25 we had a Donkey Baseball Game at the Wayne ball diamond. What a game that was! The riders were members of the Wayne K.P. against Bradner K.P. with Wayne winning.

Next came our biggest project of all. We had a food stand at the Wood County Fair in Bowling Green. The fair was held from August 11 to August 16. This really took work but we made it and came on top with over $700.00. It really increased our assets toward having more for our trip. Our mothers and fathers should have most of the credit as we probably wouldn't have prospered so well without them.

Another project during August was a Stanley Brush Party which was held in the Wayne Auditorium.

September had arrived again and we were back in school. As usual we looked forward to going to the senior homeroom and seeing our friends. This year we had a full first day instead of a half day of school.

Our senior class sponsor was Mr. Hosafros. We were all pleased to know that we would again have the wonderful guidance of our coach. Our class decreased as Mamie Gibson, Letitia Dean, and Betty Swin left us. We, however, welcomed Irene Ault from Fostoria to our class. This made a total of 32.

We elected class officers and they were as follows: president, Bob Hartenfeld; vice-president, Jim Johnson; secretary, Irene Ault; treasurer, Janet Sawyer; and reporter, Patty Williamson.

We undertook the concessions by selling ice cream at noon and selling at the football and basketball games.

On September 29 we had a supper and dinner at the Bradner Building. It was held for the Latter Day Saints Convention.

We were also selling Christmas cards, wrapping paper, ribbon, and stationary. The campaign started in August and ended in December.

We took charge of the football homecoming queen and her attendants. In October we had the homecoming dance. We also had a fish fry on the same night.

The most exciting moment was when the football team won all football games and were the Wood County Champs. The coach for the Spartans was Mr. Hosafros.

On October 22 we journeyed to Fostoria to have our pictures taken by the Dicken Studio.

In November we started our magazine sales. We sold a total of $653.30. Joyce Burton was top seller with $101.85. Lowell Buckingham was next with $82.00.

It was now nearing Christmas and we were anxiously awaiting our senior pictures. After muck waiting, they arrived on December 22.

On February 3, we had the homecoming game and dance with a queen and attendants.

The annual pictures were taken on February 2. In February we also had a bake sale at Wayne.

We ended the year by having the senior play on April 30 and May 1.

After graduation we went on our senior trip to New York and Washington D.C.

Many of us were now on our way to success and ready to climb much higher into the future.

CAMPUS DAZE

The action of the play takes place in the yard of Ma Jenkins' boarding-house at Beetax College.

Hiram Goodnow's only son Spencer, after a brilliant start at college, falls into evil ways. His efforts to be a hale-fellow-well-met among his friends puts him so far in debt that he is unable to extricate himself. When his father is informed that his son's creditors have threatened to take their bills to the faculty, a move that will cause Spencer's immediate dismissal, he comes post-haste to Beetax to straighten matters out.

Mr. Goodnow's informant is Madam Louise, a beauty specialist and one of his trusted employees, whom he has sent to Beetax to watch his son and report on his son and report on his progress from time to time. Upon his arrival he is met by Madam Louise, Bobby, a spitfire co-ed, and Tommy, a serious minded student, who convinces him that drastic action is necessary to make Spencer see the error of his ways. It is decided that Spencer's allowance must be stopped and that he be told he must work his way through school.

Porky, a good-natured chap, agrees to play the part of the good Samaritan, and loan Spencer enough money to take care of his pressing debts, the money being actually advanced by Mr. Goodnow. Porky is selected because, according to Tommy, he always has plenty of money and is supposed to be the Governor's son, who is attending Beetax incognito.

Spencer, frightened because of the attitude of his creditors, intends to leave college. He reconsiders, however, when Carrie, Ma Jenkins' foster child, a lovable old-fashioned girl, who is being put through college by an unknown aunt, chides him for being a quitter.

When Tommy tells Spencer that Porky will help him with his debts he feels that all his problems are solved. Porky, however, in a moment of thoughtlessness, gives the entire plan away, and when Spencer learns that the whole thing is a plot he upbraids his friends and refuses to accept the loan. Carrie, having promised Spencer's creditors that their bills would be taken care of, pays them with her meager savings, and tells Spencer that if he is the man she thinks he is he will stay and earn the money to pay her back.

Spencer's real manhood now asserts itself, and he entirely redeems himself. He and Porky open an automobile service station and the income from this source permits Spencer to pay all his debts before commencement.

Spencer has never forgiven Carrie, however, for what he thinks was her part in the plot against him and treats her so harshly that she leaves before the lawn fete Ma Jenkins is giving in honor of the graduating class. Bobby tells Spencer that Carrie had no part in the plot after he learns that Carrie has left. Madam Louise, however, intercepts Carrie before she succeeds in boarding the train, so all are present at the lawn fete, where it is discovered that Madam Louise is Spencer's mother (who through a misunderstanding, was parted from his father years before) and the aunt of both Carrie and Bobby, children of a step brother and sister.

Much surprise is evidenced when Governor Thompson, the guest of the evening, announces that his son Tommy, having fulfilled an agreement whereby he was to work his way through college unaided, earns ten thousand dollars.

Spencer is forgiven by Carrie. Bobby and Tommy, who have quarreled all through the play, decide to go on quarreling through life together, and so the story ends in the approved manner.

. . . enjoys being of service to YOU

. . . OVER 64 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE . . . giving us a background to better produce your printing needs. Progressively expanding over this period of years, our facilities are complete to produce any job from beginning to end. An Art Department to develop your ideas—a Composing Room with a large assortment of type to portray your message—the most modern presses, both Letterpress and Offset—and finally a complete Bindery for quick and economical delivery of the finished product. Whether it be broadsides—catalogs—letterheads—folders—annuals—nothing is too large or too small. We point with great pride to these advantages we offer our customers in assuring them of unexcelled craftsmanship and constant superior service.
